VOL. LXI: No. 21 — REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, AUGUST 20, 1921 — ESTABLISHED 1859

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION OF WILLIAM HIGHTOWER

The preliminary examination of William A. Hightower, the alleged slayer of Father Patrick Heslin on August 2, was held before Judge Ellis C. Johnson yesterday afternoon. Only a few witnesses were examined.

Hightower did not offer any defense. He maintained his stoical indifference which has characterized his demeanor since his arrest. He was held over to appear before the superior court without bonds.

He was taken from the jail secretly by Sheriff Sheehan and Jailer Coleman and brought before the court. Late in the afternoon he arrived back at the jail. Jailer Coleman says that his now distinguished prisoner eats very little but sleeps well. He continually "hits" the typewriter, grinding out letters to friends.

Since Hightower was brought to the county jail a guard watches him night and day. When he sleeps a deputy sheriff stands over him. During his waking hours a man sits by him. Yesterday his appetite began to return. For breakfast he ate a meal of bacon and eggs with considerable relish, drank much coffee and appeared in good spirits.

Most likely his trial will be set for some time next month when he will have to face the charge of murder in the superior court before Judge Buck, who will sit at the trial which promises to be the most sensational in the annals of the criminal courts of the State. The cold blooded murder of Father Heslin may be rightly classed as the crime of the century.

The accumulating evidence against Hightower is now sufficient says District Attorney Swart to hang him. Should he swing he will be the third person to have been hanged from this county.

The other two men who were hanged after conviction in the superior court, are Harry Winter and C. H. Raymond. They paid the penalty for the murder of Charles A. Andrew at South San Francisco in November, 1897. Three men, Winter, Raymond and another man entered the boarding house of Andrew for the purpose of committing burglarly. They were resisted by Andrew and he was shot dying a short time afterwards. Raymond was convicted and hanged at Folsom on April first, 1898. Winter put up a stiff legal battel but the supreme court denied him a new trial and he was hanged at Folsom on December 8, 1899. The other culprit after the shooting escaped to Arizona. He was captured afterwards and sent to San Quentin for life. H. W. Walker was district attorney at the time and H. W. Schaberg county clerk.

There was another hanging scheduled away back in Civil War times when the law compelled executions to take place in the jail yard of each county that did not take place. A Chinaman was convicted for killing a countryman at Colma, then known as the Sand Hills. The Celestial was to be hanged on July 6, 1863. The courthouse and jail was then in one building and it stood at the present location of the new courthouse. The Chinaman employed a young attorney named Jerome to defend him. Before the day of the trial Jerome coached his client to say when asked why he committed the crime to exclaim with warmth that his countryman shouted and yelled for Jeff Davis. The day of the great trial came on, Ah Quong appeared in his brightest blouse and when asked the question that was to be his defense he said, with much gusto, "Him yell Jeff Davis, me no likee, me like Abraham Lincoln, me shoote."

Evidently the jury took no stock in the Chinaman's patriotic outburst, for it brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree and Quong waesentenced to be hanged. The gallows was erected to the rear of the jail. Everything was in readiness but the night before the execution the willy Chinese crawled through the window of his cell and escaped. It was said at that time that the authorities aided the prisoner to make his getaway, not wishing to perform the gruesome job. But the Chinese was afterwards hanged in Oregon for another murder. Tom Lathrop was sheriff of the county at the time a position he held for many years after.

That evening the young couple left on their honeymoon to be spent in the south and on their return will reside permanently in San Mateo. Mr. and Mrs. Lucchesi have the best wishes of the people of Portola for a long and happy wedded life.

APPRAISER APPOINTED

Judge Buck has appointed H. W. Schaberg, inheritance tax appraiser of the estate of Frances C. O'Connor, deceased. The estate is worth in the neighborhood of $200,000.

PRICE OF GAS IS REDUCED 5 CENTS PER 1000 CU. FEET

The price of gas was cut five cents per 1000 cubic feet in the Redwood City district, including Daly City, South San Francisco, Burlingame, Hillsborough, San Mateo and Redwood City, by an order of the California State Railroad Commission issued Tuesday. The new rates are effective on meter reading of September 3.

At the same time reductions were ordered throughout the state ranging from two to eight cents per 1000 cubic feet.

This reduction is the first result of the policy adopted by the commission on June 21, when ratios were established between the price of gas to consumers and the cost of oil to the companies.

The gas utilities throughout the state having reported a decrease of 25 cents per barrel in the price of oil, according to the requirements of the June order, the commission proceeded to apply the ratios to the different territories and to promulgate the new rates. In its order of June 21 the Railroad Commission made a complete readjustment of gas rates for California. This followed the first drop in the price of oil. At that time the rates fixed for the Pacific Gas and Electric company in March were revised downward from six to ten cents, so that the total reduction made snice the March rates were established is now from eight to eighteen cents, according to the territory covered.

FRANK N. ANDERSON PLEADS "NOT GUILTY"

Frank N. Anderson, driver of the automobile which overturned on the Menlo Park-Portola Valley road on the morning of Sunday, June 26, resulting in the death of John O'Dea of Menlo Park, appeared before Superior Judge George H. Buck Monday and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of manslaughter.

Anderson's trial was set for Monday, August 29. He will be defended by Attorney J. J. Bullock of Redwood City.

PLAINTIFF IS AWARDED $462.25 JUDGMENT

Superior Judge George H. Buck Thursday rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the case of W. R. Emerick vs. O. L. Johnson. The suit was the result of t collision between the automobiles of the two parties on February 7, 1921, at the corner of Miller and Linden avenues at South San Francisco. Emerick sued for $462.25 damages through Attorney J. J. Bullock. The defendant filed a cross-comhplaint asking for $73.25, through Attorney Barry J. Golding and Theodore Hale of San Francisco.

Judge Buck's decision states that the defendant was cslearly violating the law at the time of the collision.

SHORT SESSION OF THE CITY BOARD OF TRUSTEES

There was a short session of the town council last Monday night. The board agreed to purchase cast iron posts made by the J. Hendy Iron Works of Sunnyvale for the new electrolier lighting system that is to be installed on Broadway and Main streets. After careful consideration these posts were decided upon. Trustees Tuchsen and Kreiss favored concrete while the other members were partial to the iron posts. These posts are the same that are used at San Mateo. There are to be 52 and they are to cost $45 each.

Bids will be called for for installing them. A building ordinance was introduced making it cumpulsory for all persons desiring to build to first obtain a permit from the trustees.

VOTE FOR THE BONDS FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING ON AUGUST 26th, 1921

The high school bond election takes place on August 26. It is to be hoped that every voter will come to the polls on that day and cast a ballot for funds to provide a suitable building for the students. The present quarters are vastly overcrowded. More room is needed to house the students of the rapidly increasing community. There is no getting away from the proposition. The burden cannot be shifted. If the people fail to vote the bonds the trustees will be compelled to ask for a direct tax to erect the proposed building. This would be a big burden on the taxpayer while the bond issue would not be felt by anyone.

The Sequoia Union High School district must keep abreast of the times by providing proper high school facilities for the boys and girls of this section. The high school must be the equal of any on the peninsula. This is a growing community. The future as well as the present must be provided for, hence the necessity of an up-to-date building with ample provisions for the future.

The ladies are entering their work with enthusiasm, hoping this bazaar will be the most successful in the history of the church.

That nefarious person, known as the dog poisoner, has made his appearance on Brewster avenue and through his malicious act in setting out poison three canines were sent to the happy hunting grounds this week. Poison in meat was found on the street Tuesday in easy reach of a small child who with childish curiosity might have placed it in his or her mouth. There is no place in this world for such a wretched person as a dog poisoner. A man who will kill a neighbor's dog to "get even" is not worthy of any consideration from anyone.

D. F. Barber, a druggist who tried to stage a fake lynching bee in Redwood City Tuesday night, was sentenced to serve ten days in the conuty jail without and alternative. The following day he was paroled.

GUARDIAN APPOINTED

Arthur Neuman, of Woodside, through his attorneys, Ross and Ross, has petitioned the superior court for a revocation of letters testamentary issued to Clara C. Neuman upon the estate of A. A. Neuman on May 24, 1921. The petition alleges that the executrix has mismanaged and wrongly and wilfully neglected the estate. That no notice of creditors has been issued notwithstanding that said executrix was aware of the indebtedness of the sum of $25,000 due Arthur Neuman from the estate. No appraisers have been appointed and nothing done in the settlement of the affairs of the said estate. Mrs. Neuman has been cited to appear and show cause why the letters testamentary should not be revoked on August 25, 1921.

HISTORIC MORO CASTLE USED AS LOCALE FOR PHOTOPLAY

Since that fateful day in '98 when the battleship Maine was rent by an explosion in Havana harbor, Morro Castle, the grim fort that rises above the port of Cuba's capital, has been a place of romance, of mystery and of horror for all Americans. It will be shown in all its terror-striking aspects in "Do or Die," the Universal serial which begins at the California Theatre next Friday night, August 26th, with Eddie Polo in the leading role. Special permission was obtained from the Cuban government to film the ancient fortress.

"THAT'S MY HOME"

By Dave L. Walter

"THAT'S MY HOME."

That is the word he speaks as he comes back from work at night. Who is he? He is one of the vertebrae of this nation. He is the man who owns his home.

It may be but a cottage; it may be almost hidden neath shrubs, vines and flowers; it may be ever so humble, but it is his. Every inch of it, every spear of its grass, every stick of its timbers is his—all his.

"THAT'S MY HOME."

Can you see the world of affection and emotion which plays around that expression?

That man will be a sober and substantial citizen. He will weigh all questions carefully from the focus of that little home. He will be happy in the fulfillment of life's greatest achievement. The ownership of a home, which means permanency and in which his loved ones will be surrounded with ideal environments. That man will be no Bolshevik, no insurrecto, no flaming radical.

"THAT'S MY HOME."

The man who says that may speak no menace consciously; but in the love and affection of those words is the sternest menace to which this world ever listens; for the man who speaks them is ready to stand on that threshold and pay with the last last drop of his blood for the possession of those few feet of ground and all that they contain.

"THAT'S MY HOME."

There is pride, self-respect, the upheld head and firm step in that word. There is solidity. There is the rock-ribbed strength that makes a nation great. Let invaders beware of a people whose universal cry is—"That's My Home."

"THAT'S MY HOME."

Of all the places in my opinion to which this sentence applies the strongest, is the peninsula of San Francisco, from Burlingame to Palo Alto; where can you beat it?

CALIFORNIA THEATRE ADDS ANOTHER NIGHT TO PROGRAM

The management of the California Theatre takes pleasure in announcing to the people of Redwood City that the theatre will now have four shows weekly, Sunday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday, with matinees both Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

In accordance with the many requests from the young folks, we have secured the Universal special serial, starring fearless Eddie Polo, which begins next Friday night. The feature picture for the evening will be "The Eternal Penalty," with an excellent supporting cast, also one of the best smilemakers of the season, Billie West, "The Dodger."

CHAMLEE WILL SING IN "TOSCA"

One of the finds at the Metropolitan opera house last season was Mario Chamlee, the tenor. Graduating to the Metropolitan from the Scotti Grand Opera Company, Chamlee made his debut on November 23, 1920, in "Tosca" in the role of Mario Cavaradossi to the Baron Scarpia of Scotti and the Floria Tosca of Farrar. Handsome in fact and form, with splendid acting ability developed under the tuition of Antonio Scotti, and the possessor of a lyric tenor voice, Chamlee made a success. A protege of Scotti's, in whose company he appeared for two seasons' Chamlee is now being sought by the management of Covent Garden, London, and also the La Scala Opera House in Milan. Gatti-Casazza, general manager of Metropolitan, has given permission for Chamlee to make several appearances with the Scotti Grand Opera Company, his appearance, however, to be confined to San Francisco.

Chamlee will be heard here with the Scotti Grand Opera Company in the following roles: As Mario Cavaradossi in "Tosca," with Scotti and Farrar; as Win-San-Luy in "L'Oracolo"; as Turridu in "Cavalleria Rusticana"; as Sir Edgar in "Lucia Di Lammermoor," and as Duke of Mantau in "Rigoletto."

Frank W. Healy, under whose management the Scotti Grand Opera Company appears in San Francisco, announces that tickets will go on sale Monday morning, August 15, at the box office, for the two weeks' season commencing September 19, at the Exposition Auditorium.

Chamlee's voice can be heard on Brunswick records exclusively at Lippman's Reliable Jewelry Store, Redwood City. Phonographs sold on easy payments. September records on sale today.

SAN CARLOS ITEMS

With the artistic signs placed on the lamp posts along Cypress avenue bearing the woodland names of our cross streets our romantic instincts again assert themselves until we almost feel that we're way back east again in our little Putnamville, or some other ville, in the old "Hoosier" State, and that we're not so old after all. However, the childhood dreams of our mayor is disturbed owing to the fact that the party who handed in the names of the streets to the landscape painter of Redwood City, Mr. Doxsee, misspelled "Laurel" with two "l's" and as this is the street on which the mayor has his love nest it gives him a pain and wakeful hours. The placing of the names of our streets at this time is like "hopes long deferred" now that prohibition is an actual fact, as the Redwood City Fathers says it is—in the county seat(?).

Mrs. Robert B. McNab grasped the advantage of her husband's two weeks vacation from the Chronicle staff by taking a trip to Fresno to visit friends and relatives while her husband was at home to take care of garden, dogs and chickens. It is surprising how many men have become domestics since women suffrage has reached its present high state of efficiency. It is liable to transpire that the men will find they can get along without the former weaker sex altogether.

Miss Marie T. Conway and her two sisters, the Misses Margaret and Katherine, three of San Francisco's charming business women, are domiciled in the delightful summer cottage of Mrs. N. T. Smith located on the hill back of and overlooking San Carlos and the San Francisco Bay. As this snug little home occupies the highest elevation of any place in San Carlos and is one of the most charming spots in the little town these young ladies consider themselves exceedingly fortunate in securing the home in which to spend their vacation. The Misses Conways were formerly neighbors of Mrs. Mary E. Quinn of this place when the Quinns were residents of the metropolis.

Miss Bernice Stewart of San Francisco who has just returned from an outing at Santa Cruz is here for a week's visit with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Buneman at their new home, 536 Elm street.

Cast your bread upon the waters and it will return a hundred fold. So F. W. Otto has found. Through his courtesy in the loan of his up-to-date Underwood typewriter to the secretary of the San Carlos Chamber of Commerce, it has been the means of placing a machine with Guy Hull of Hull Brothers, Redwood City, and Mr. Hull's expert typist is now one of the happiest girls in the county seat. And this reminds us that Guy has further shown his appreciation by enrolling himself a member of our organization.

Everyone possible from San Carlos should attend the dance and entertainment at the Belmont school auditorium this coming Saturday evening. Not alone for the reason that the folks from our neighbor city on the north always most liberally and generously patronize affairs of this kind at San Carlos, but more particularly should we lend our presence and pocketbooks to this occasion because the proceeds are to be devoted to avery worthy cause. You are assured of you money's worth whether you shake a foot or not, and at the same time help another who has passed through a great misfortune which you have providentially escaped.

ALMONDS GROWN IN AMERICA

When you eat an almond, do you ever stop to wonder where it came from The chances are the nut was grown in Europe, for this country imports about 30,000,000 pounds a year of shelled and unshelled, mostly shelled, and raises only 11,000,000 pounds, weighed in the shell. Nearly all our home-grown almonds are produced in California, where some 5000 farmers are cultivating 100,000 acres of almond orchards. The Californians are expecting to bring the production up to 30,000,000 pounds per year, but just now they are worrying over the fact that the Spanish and other European almonds, particularly the shelled almonds, can be imported for .ess than the cost of production in the United States. One difficulty is that the European worker is willing to labor for a much smaller wage than the American is required to pay, and the Spanish almond is shelled by old men, women and children who work in their homes in the evenings after a day's work. The American almond grower cannot get that kind of labor, and does not want it. But he does want, and is asking Congress to enact, an import duty on almonds that will equalize the difference in cost of production.

Of course the answer of the importers of Spanish almonds is that if the import duty is raised, this will raise the cost of the nut to the consumer. The reply of the California grower is that since the imported nut supplies the greater part of the market, the importer fixes his price just as high as possible and keep under the American price, and the American producer's price is now under the cost of production. Either the Spanish producer or the importer is getting the margin of profit and the California grower cannot hope to cut his costs low enough to be an effective competitor with the importer, unless the importer is required to pay a heavier tax.

In 1915, before the war affected wages and prices to any great extent, the cost of prouction in California was about 11 cents per pound. The cost of the 1920 crop was about 20 cents a pound and the growers received only about 10 cents a pound. The Spanish nut can be produced for about 5 cents a pound. The 6,700,000 pounds of unshelled nuts imported last year were valued at $1,017,000, of about 15 cents per pound. It is apparent therefore, that the imported nut was valued at about three times cost of production, while the American producer was selling below cost of production. The European produc er or dealer put the margin in his pocket.

The import duty under the Democratic tariff law has been three cents per pound on the unshelled and four cents on the shelled. It is very clear that when Spanish almonds can be produced for five cents or less per pound and are imported here on a basis of 15 cents valuation, a duty of three cents is not enough. The California growers are nat asking for a prohibitive tariff. All they ask is a duty of five cents per pound on the unshelled and 15 cents per pound on the shelled, one hundred pounds of unshelled making about 25 pounds of shelled.

This import duty, the California producers assert, would not be added to the retail price, but would be taken out of the margin of profit now realized by the foreign producer, dealer and importer, and prevent the foreigner from ruinously competing in the American market.

AND NOW COMES RUSSIA

Having "saved" western and central Europe with billions of loans and the gift of hundreds of millions in foodstuffs and other supplies, while those people remained in comparative idleness and the highest of prices prevailed in our own country, we are now to repeat the process with Russia, if reports are not misleading. France has spent a few days in Russia as the guest of the soviet officials, and has become convinced that a loan of about $4,000,000,000 from the American Treasury will put the Russians on their feet again and enable the Russian government to remonstrate a continued ability to function. From another source we are informed that under certain conditions America will send foodstuffs to Russia to tide the people through a winter made desolate by a miserable government and an unusual drought. The condition is that the Russian government release a few Americans who were foolish enough to enter that country and tempt fate.

Why is it that the United States must fly to the aid of every country of the Old World that insists on destroying its subsistance by rushing recklessly into war or experimenting with forms of government that centuries of expericense have demonstrated always bring ruin in their wake? The World War and its distressing aftermath was due solely to the refusal of the people of Europe to assert themselves and proclaim freedom from self-appointed rulers who sought to exploit their subjects for personal glorification. The situation in Russia can be blamed only on the absurd government that prevented the people from accumulating a surplus to tide them over unusual weather conditions that have prevailed this summer.

There may have been some satisfaction in extending reconstruction aid to central Europe, as the peoples of those countries were in the throes of breaking away from their tradition al rulers and setting up governments of their own. There was some prospect that, once relieved of their present distress, they would see ti it that unprovoked war did not come again and that the ywould busy themselves with peaceful pursuits. But in Russia there is no suggestion of a change in government. Senator France expresses the conviction that the soviets are merely passing through a process of logical evolution; in fact, the four billion loan that he proposes is to be made to that very government to enable it to keep its hold on the country. The Russian people have been impoverished while the Russian government has made war upon about every nation within reach, and carried its communistic propaganda and sent its agents of revolution into every country in the world. A loan from America would be nothing less than a reimbursement to Russia for money and supplies expended in that way, and doubtless much of it would be spent to continue those programs of bloodshed at home and organized discontent abroad.

Has anybody estimated the cost to the allies and to the United States of Russia's defection during the war? It is quite possible that the war would have ended without the entrance of this country had not the soviet government compelled the withdrawal of Russia, and the United States might have been saved the expenditure of 75,000 lives and $30,000,000,000. Now we are asked to perpetuate that same government with huge loans of cash and enormous gifts of foods and supplies? It is too much for even American altruism.

The United States demonstrated its affection for the Russian people in the dread famine of 1891 when millions were saved from death by food sent them from America. We are ready to repeat that contribution, but one of the conditions thereto should be that the soviet armies be disbanded the soldiers returned to productive occupations, and a stop put to the requisitioning of food supplies to continue war against the Poles, the overawing of the Armenians, and war-like threats in Siberia.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, August15.

Chairman Thompson announced that the board would take up at this time the matter of the protest of A. H. Hellman, filed at the meeting on August 1st against the action of James Huddart, in closing what is known as the old Greer road at Wood side.

Attorney Gerald R. Halsey of San Francisco, representing Huddart, addressed the board and submitted an original deed of sale of the property involved, providing that in the event of the abandonment of the above road and its ceasing to be used as a public highway, it shall revert back to the original owner. Halsey claims that this is what happened over 30 years ago and that since then Huddert has constructed a new road along the route of the old road. This new road, Halsey claims, leads only to Huddert's place and is being used for no other purpose. It is this new road, he said, which is now in controversy, and the question is one he held that can be settled only by the court, not by the supervisors.

Supervisor Hickey said it was a question of whether the road had ever been abandoned and if not so tt still is a public road and the supervisors still had jurisdiction over it.

Attorney Halsey stated that several Supreme Court decisions had held that a long non-use of a highway would constitute on abandonment of the same.

A. Hellman addressed the board and claimed that Huddert had never purchased the road as it is not on the property described in the deed. He presented a map to the board, showing the exact location of the road.

The board, on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor MacBain, continued the matter until Monday, August 22, when a special meeting will be held.

Miss Florence Boggs, executive secretary of the Social Service Commission, submitted a report showing the expenditures of the commission for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, for the different departments as follows:

Outdoor Relief	$44,265.57
Administrative	7,917.07
County Clinic	2,938.83
Juvenile Home	2,540.76
Total	$57,662.76

The report showed a reduction of $16,237.42 for refund from State aid, $3,078.24, aid allowed for court children and $2,540.76 for expenses allowed Juvenile Home, a total deduction of $21,876.42, making the actual cost to the commission for the year $35,785.81.

Miss Boggs also submitted a report, showing the estimated amount of money required to carry on the work of the commission for the year ending June 30, 1922, at $41,400.

The report was accepted on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor MacBain.

Miss Boggs presented the resignation of Miss Margaret Loftus, county nurse, to take effect August 21, 1921. The resignation was accepted on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor MacBain.

The report of the Social Service Commission covering the total number of patients treated at the different clinics in he county, those sent to the sanitariums and the number of persons cared for in the Juvenile Home, together with the secretary's report for the fiscal year, was submitted by Miss Boggs and ordered filed.

County Superintendent of Schools Roy W. Cloud appeared before the board and read a communication that he had received from the trustees of the Sunnyside school district on the coastside, asking for the re-establishment of the district, they stating that the school will have eight pupils by the first of September. The district was recently ordered suspended by the board on account of having less than five pupils which is required by law, for a district to exist.

The district was ordered re-established on motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Hickey. The report of Miss Margaret Loftus, county nurse, for the month of June, 1921, was received and ordered filed.

County Engineer George A. Kneese submitted specifications for a retaining wall on the Montara to Halfmoon Bay road, near station 247, at Princeton in the Fourth road district. The specifications were accepted on motion of Supervisor Francis, seconded by Supervisor Brown, and Mrs. Nash, the clerk, was directed to advertise for bids, the same to be opened Tuesday, September 6, 1921.

County Engineer George A. Kneese submitted plans and specifications for two concrete retaining walls on the La Honda to San Gregorio road in the Third township, one near station 55 and the other near station 135. The plans and specifications were adopted on motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Hickey, and Mrs. Nash, the clerk, was directed to advertise for bids, same to be opened Tuesday, September 6, 1921.

County Engineer George A. Kneese submitted plans and specifications for a box culvert across Cordilleras creek in the Second road district. The plans and specifications were adopted on motion of Supervisor Brown, seconded by Spuervisor Hickey, and Mrs. Nash, the clerk, was directed to advertise for bids, the same to be opened Tuesday, September 6.

A communication was received from the secretary of the San Mateo County Building Trades Counsel, enclosing a resolution recently adopted by that body protesting against the employment of men outside of the county by Barrett & Hilp, contractors of the new county hospital at Beresford, under the so-called "American plan," and asking the board to take the matter up with the contractors with a view that local men and taxpayers be given preference of employment.

On order of Chairman Thompson, Mrs. Nash, the clerk, was directed to notify the secretary of the Building Trades Counsel, that the board of supervisors has no jurisdiction in the matter.

A communication was received from Rev. James A. Grant, enclosing $635.44, which amount he explained he had been directed to turn over to the county by Mrs. Mary Hodges, now an inmate of the county hospital Chairman Thompson ordered the money turned over to County Treasurer P. P. Chamberlain.

Dr. F. Holmes Smith, county health officer, submitted a report stating that he had made an investigation in the matter of the drainage from the Japanese quarters at Menlo Park that had been complained about by Miss Bruener of that place. Dr. Smith stated that he had always found J. E. Sherer, from whom the Japanese released the property, agreeable to correct any nuisance, and that the latter was now willing to connect with the sewer if the permission could be obtained from Miss Bruener to lay pipes across her land.

Supervisor MacBain addressed the board and stated that there is a main sewer on the State Highway which Sherer could connect with without traversing the property of Miss Bruener. Notice to this effect was ordered sent to Dr. Smith, on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor Francis.

A communication was received from Charles S. Fee, general passenger agen for the Southern Pacific in San Francisco, acknowledging receipt of certified copy of resolutions adopted by the board on August 1, urging the electrification of the Southern Pacific lines in San Mateo county.

BUICK PRESENTS A NEW FOUR CYLINDER

Announcement is made of the presentation before the motoring public of Buick's new four-cylinder line. In motor contsruction Buick has adhered to the valve-in-head principle with which its name has ben so prominently connected for twenty years. The cylinder bore is 3⅜ inches with stroke of 4¾ inches. The motor develops between 35 and 40 brake horse power and road tests have shown that the power plant will deliver up to 50 miles an hour with ease. Features of the motor construction are the large three-bearing crank-shaft and 12-inch long connecting rods, extra long rods being provided to reduce vibration to a minimum. A circulating splash oiling system gives automatic lubrication throughout. Another important feature, which is standard equipment on all Buick cars is the automatic carburetor heat control through which ideal vaporizing conditions are obtained.

The transmission is of the selective sliding gear type, three speeds forward and one reverse. The universal joint is of standard Buick construction, being virtually an integral part of the transmission and automatically lubricated from the transmission. The clutch is of the multiple disc dry plate type, built in exact accordance with the principles which have guided clutch construction in Buick sizes. All moving driving parts are enclosed.

Front axle if the four-cylinder car is an I-beam forging. The rear axle is three-quarter floating type, all the weight of the car being carried on the axle tubes and only driving torque and steadying of the wheels being taken by the axle driving shafts. The third member is of standard Buick type of construction, designed successfully to eliminate all twisting or weaving in the rear axle. Geer ratio of the rear axle on high speed is 4 2-3 to 1.

Wheelbase of all models is 109 inches. The spring suspension is designed to give fine riding qualities to a car of this wheelbase. The front springs, semi-elliptic type, are 36 inches long, and the rear springs, also semi-elliptic, are 55½ inches long.

Cord tires are standard equipment on all models. These tires, which are 31x4, are the first straight side cord tires in this size ever manufactured and were built especially to meet Buick requirements for the new four-cylinder cars. The tires have been adopted as standard size.

The chassis is lubricated with the high pressure Alemite system. Delco starting and lighting system is standard equipment. All models are complete with tire carrier and extra rim and all are equipped with non-glare hadlight lenses.

LOCAL ATTRACTIONS
By J. L. Strang

It is proper to wear stockings I modestly admit
The chiffon sheer, Italian silk, the clocked and porus knit
But to relieve the eye strain, the color should be green;
And for goodness sake be careful to straighten the seam.

The City of Los Angeles is chemically pure
With movie queens and pretty girls both charming and demure—
Although we like the pretty girls and capacious movie queens,
They should be more attractive if they's straighten up the seams.

In good old San Francisco where the wind blows every day
You are sure to see a plenty if you only look that way,
For on Powell street the chickens wear them so they can be seen
But how I wish to goodnes they would straighten up the seam.

The San Diego maidens find they can wear them too,
But they are very careless and the seams are all askew
And when I walk down Broadway I find it always seems
To fill my soul with horror to see those crooked seams.

But here in Redwood City they wear them good and straight,
But also there's none to see them, the town is so sedate—
The old man can't be bothered, the young are shy I ween
But nevertheless I thank the girls who straightened up the seam.

G & J TUBES

BECAUSE tubes cost comparatively little as compared with tires, too little attention is being paid them by a good many motorists.

* * *

You can almost tell what a tire dealer stands for by the kind of tubes he carries.

Let them be known—let them have a reputation behind them—and you can be pretty sure that he is contributing something to that reputation.

We select our tubes as carefully as we do our tires. G & J Tubes to go with G & J Tires—each with a reputation of more than a quarter of a century behind them.

Camels are made for Men who Think for Themselves

Such folks know real quality—and DEMAND it.

They prefer Camels because Camels give them the smoothest, mellowest smoke they can buy—because they love the mild, rich flavor of choicest tobaccos, perfectly blended—and because Camels leave NO CIGARETTY AFTERTASTE.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills! These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

But QUALITY! Listen! That's CAMELS!

Mr. Mulcahy had prepared a den with a glass front at his home from which he could view the valley and bay. Here he spent many happy hours in contemplating the beauty and wonders of nature in her sublimity and in her grand manifestations. He loved his home and there his happiest moments were spent.
